

Mr. EVERTS is being boomed for the New York Senatorship.

The bill to establish a Department of Agriculture has passed the House.

The two houses of Congress have agreed to adjourn on Saturday until January 5th.

The charters of seven hundred and twenty-one national banks will expire during the coming year.

The headquarters of the Kentucky Whisky Exporting Committee will be moved January 1st from Lexington to Cynthiana.

The East Kentucky News, printed at Calcutta, has suspended publication. It was removed to that place a few months ago from Grayson, Carter County.

The new Nicaragua treaty that empowers the United States to build a $60,000,000 canal is said to be in contemplation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, as interpreted by Great Britain.

The House will on January 16th, consider the McPherson bill, to issue to national banking associations circulating notes up to the amount of the par value of bonds deposited for security.

Mr. CARLISLE, in his recent speech at the ratification meeting in Baltimore, said: "The business interest can best be forwarded by being left alone as far as possible from Government interference."

BLAINE's libel suit against the Indianapolis Sentinel has been dismissed by the plaintiff for the reason that he does not believe he can get justice in Indiana. In a letter to his attorneys he says he would have to contend against "the consolidated venom of the Democratic party." The case has ended precisely as was predicted.

The Senate has passed the bill to admit the Southern portion of the Territory of Dakota as a State in the Union. The population embraces about three hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants. The vote was a party one, thirty-five Republicans voting for the bill and twenty-eight Democrats against it. It is considered very certain that the bill will fail to pass the House.

One century ago sixty unpretentious Methodists preachers sat upon stiff benches in a little meeting house in Baltimore, and organized a church. Last week 660 delegates, representing 4,000,000 members of that church, are welcomed to that city's hospitality. It is a marvelous growth that the century has witnessed and foreshadows a magnificent increase in the great future of the church.

In a man with a few thousand dollars wants to get rich, let him invest in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky. There, hidden in the wilderness, is an untold wealth of timber, coal, iron and minerals of all kinds. Northern capitalists seem to be more keenly sensible of Kentucky's natural advantages than Kentuckians are themselves. There is no reason why the mines and mountains of Kentucky should not teem with industry like the mountains of Pennsylvania.

I tried 'Em All.

[Washington, D. C., New York.] A distinguished ex-Confederate officer, now a resident of Washington, used to drink a great deal of whisky when young. He reformed and is now a sober business man. He married the other day a prominent society lady who is a devout Roman Catholic. The groom in speaking of his marriage said to one of his club friends: "I have tried rum and rebellion, I am now going in for Romanism."

Health Rules For Winter.

[Farm and Fireside.]

Never lean with the back upon anything that is cold.

Never make a journey until the break fast has been eaten.

Never take warm drinks and then immediately go out in the cold air.

Keep the neck especially warm when the skin is in an active condition—the cold will close the pores and favor congestion or other diseases.

After exercise of any kind never ride in a carriage, or near the window of a car for a moment, it is dangerous to health and even to life.

When horse, seze as little as possible until the horselessness is recovered from, especially if the manure be produced or likely to be thrown to the horse.

Morbidly warm the back by a fire, and never continue keeping the back exposed to heat after it has become warm. To do otherwise is debilitating.

When going from a warm atmosphere into a cold one, keep the mouth closed so that the air may be warmed by its passage through the nose ere it reaches the lungs.

Never stand still in cold weather, especially after having taken a slight degree of exercise, and always avoid standing on ice or snow, or where the person is exposed to cold wind.

CONDENSED NEWS.

The United States Senate passed the bill to admit the southern part of Dakota into the Union.

COLONEL MAPLESON, the impresario, has declared his intention to become an American citizen.

The National House has agreed to adjourn on Saturday to January 5, and the Senate will probably follow suit, as it is in the way of discovering the cause of the London Bridge explosion, but it is a faint one.

Mr. REEDING has rejected Prince Bismarck's proposal for the establishment of an African Consulate General at Cairo, Egypt. G. B. Thompson and wife, now Lincoln Orient, went to church, have buried and with it two of their children, aged two and six.

In a terrific storm at sea the Thierry threw over oil and lay eighteen hours in calm water, while the waves fought the grease in vain.

PROSPECTIVE articles of merchandise, when mailed in their original wrappers and sealed, may be accepted by postmasters as fourth class matter.

JAMES D. TISON was cruelly beaten his wife, a native of Georgia. Polemical warfare went to the rescue, and a little tickler hard killed Davidson.

It took seventy-four rounds and five hours to convince Bill McElroy, of Montreal, that he was the champion of the world's middle-weight champions.

JOHN GILLISHER, of the "Nypans," took his marriage certificate and his wife's pretty eighteen-year-old sister and ran away from home in Meadowville, Pennsylvania.

LIEUTENANT GARDINER, 1st Artillery, General Hospital, reported to the General Hospital to investigate. The result will be that Hazen will himself be investigated.

A $600 fire licked up the greater part of Newport, Arkansas. In the ruins were found James Connor, Pleasant McNutt, Mrs. Connor, another woman and child, burned to death.

CHICAGO has 647 divorce cases pending in its courts, and the Philadelphia courts have something over 700. The New York Hotel has a large number of divorce cases on its books, and the number of cases in each case, and the exhibits have created considerable excitement for their great numbers and the persons who are seeking to be released from marital vows.

Rot at the Mines.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 18.—The syndicate and co-exchange have received information of an attack made on the guards at Jumbo Brothers' mines near Nelsonville, last night between 11 and 12 o'clock. About one hundred and fifty shots were exchanged. None of the guards were injured, and so far as learned those who assailed the attack escaped the bullets. Complete quiet is reported to-day.

She Had Enough Tools.

BANGOR, Me., Dec. 18.—The wife of Plum Miller with whom, accidentally succumbed by cutting her throat. The husband, who had been in the house for a long time, had been on the floor, and going to the bedroom, found his wife on the bed with a mirror before her about to finish the act which she had partially accomplished in another room. The instruments used from a case were a box knife, a knife and a common pocket knife. She had cut an ugly gash in her neck which was sewed up by physicians. She will recover. Jealousy is said to be the cause.

No Water for Eleven Days.

The shipwrecked crew of the British Bark Benefactress were adrift in an open boat, supporting life on some of the bits of dry bread and a few apples. This was slim fare and reduced them to a state of great feebleness. But Brown's Iron Bitters brings enfeebled folks up rapidly, even from such depths as this. It enriches the blood, tones the system and gives healthful strength. Mr. William Hardie, of Ennis, Texas, writes that he had dyspepsia in its worst form, but was restored by Brown's Iron Bitters.

TO say that the twelve young ladies who participated in the broad drill, given last night for the benefit of the Southern Presbyterian Church, was a success is paying them rather a mild compliment. They came down the stairs marking time to the tap of the drum with military precision, and after a constant drill of nearly an hour, going through many of the most difficult evolutions, displaying perfect military skill, they were commanded to break ranks. The drilling commanded could not have been exceeded. If one deserves especial mention all do. We can only say that one and all deserve credit for the enjoyable entertainment. To Captain Fitzgerald for his untiring efforts are due an armful of thanks. At the conclusion of the drill the brooms were used by some of the young ladies were offered at auction and commanded the following prices: Miss Bettie Johnson, $1.50; Miss May Morgan, $3.25; Miss Campbell, $1; Miss Belle D. Phister, $1; Miss Katie Blatterman, $2. A number of fancy articles were raffled off at the same time.

THE new steamer Big Sandy cost $65,000, and is said to be the most complete boat ever built for the upper Ohio trade. The hull is two hundred and eighty feet long with forty-five feet beam, with six feet depth of hold in the clear. She has four six fired boilers and is provided with electric lights for signals and to light the lower deck. The cabin contains fifty-four state rooms and accommodations for one hundred and fifty passengers. The rooms are large and contain double berths and are handsomely furnished. The cabin is lighted by seven gold chandeliers, with six colored globes each, which give a pleasing effect. The state room doors are in mahogany, the rest of the cabin are plain white, varied only by three small tips on the brackets overhead and at the top of the columns between the bulkheads. The office is forward of the main hall and is very large and roomy and contains in walnut and cherry. The cook house and pantry are on the larboard side and contain every new convenience, including silver coffee and tea urns in the pantry, constantly under the eye of the steward. The tableware is of solid silver and of handsome pattern. The bar, wash-room, barber shop and gentleman's closets are on the starboard. The bar was built and fitted up by its owner, Col. James G. Simmonds, and is the handsomest on the river. The Texas is roomy and handsomely fitted up for the accommodation of the officers. The Big Sandy will be offered as follows: Master, William Kirker; clerk, James Wirthlin; second clerk, Mae Anew; third clerk, Alex Pangs; pilots, Ed. Williamson and Eph. Talbot; engineers, H. Tyler and Burt Smith; mate, Kirker; second mate, Dan Jammert; carpenter, Adolph Wale; steward, Wm. Davidson; second steward, Sam. Neal; chamberlain, Mary Nelson; barkeeper, John James.

SCHOOL NOTES.

DISTRICT NO. 27—DRISKILL OR OSBURN.

This school house is located on the Mayville and Dover pike, at the top of the hill, as we come up from Dover. The house is aged and unpainted, and greatly in need of repair.

The children were crowded together in the schoolroom, which was very difficult. The census report shows a population of eighty-one, the roll fifty-one, and thirty-sevens were found in attendance.

Robert Osburn, "Bit" Pickett and Fred Swigert are trustees. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Osburn, the parents of the patrons Mrs. Cliff Osburn has visited the school. Miss Jocova Bacon is teaching her fourth section here. She takes an educational journal and spares time to read it to her class work.

I confess I was so anxious to see the advantage which might have been removed by properly furnishing the house, Miss Bacon is not able, for lack of desks, to give instructions in penmanship, but she is a good teacher and I am greatly pleased with the history classes and the works of the little folks. The real test of teaching is the ability to interest and advance beginners. The general tone of the school is good, and the school a success in every way.

MISS M. C. SWIGERT, of New Haven, Conn., is a teacher here.

A tax has been voted to build a new school house here, but the patrons can not agree upon a location, nor can they agree to agree on a location, nor can they agree to agree on a location, as a bumper between the two factions. I came away with an impression that this might be a repetition of the quaint old story of the man who was granted the melancholy privilege of choosing the tree on which he had to hang his son, and, however, to find he had his son's guard, but could never find a tree suited to his purpose. I trust, however, that the future will prove this to be only a dream.

L. W. GALBRAITH.

Polly's Remark.

A year or two ago the family found it necessary to take boarders. Two large rooms were advertised to let, and among the callers was an elderly gentleman who seemed much pleased. Inquiring as to the price he told $12 a week.

"Twelve dollars for two?" he asked. "Certainly not," said the mistress of the house. "Twelve dollars each. You don't suppose rooms the size of these cost $12 a week?"

"I really don't know," she responded, the room hunker. Whereat the parrot ejaculated viciously: "Well, you are an old fool!"

"Madame," said the visitor, as he tightened his grip on his walking stick, "does that bird know what it is talking about?"

"I think it does," she quietly answered.

KALEIDOSCOPUS.

The majority of married women look on the days of their courtship as the happiest time of their life, and they will, or may, for a time, be very happy. But when they are not party, won and not whelmed, and keep him in suspense as to his losing or winning, the honey-moon is short and sweet.

The consciousness of knowing he is a good man, and that he is a good husband, and the pleasure of making his wife happy, are the greatest joys of married life.

When he is a good man, she is a good wife, and he is a good husband.

When he is a good husband, she is a good wife, and he is a good man.

When he is a good wife, she is a good wife, and he is a good husband.

When he is a good husband, she is a good wife, and he is a good man.

When he is a good man, she is a good wife, and he is a good husband.

When he is a good wife, she is a good wife, and he is a good husband.

When he is a good husband, she is a good wife, and he is a good man.

When he is a good man, she is a good wife, and he is a good husband.
